

Climate Change Forum
Marylhurst University, Portland, Oregon
Saturday, October 8, 2005

- 8:30am: Registration
- 9:00 am: Welcome
- 9:05am: Purpose of Meeting, Logistics, Lunch Options; Dr. Jan Dabrowski, Chair, Science and Mathematics Department, Marylhurst University.
- 9:15am: Speaker Guidelines; Time Frames; George Miller, Retired Meteorologist, Adjunct Professor, Writer, Historian
- 9:20am: Global Warming: Issues and Processes; Dr. Aslam Khalil, Chair, Physics Department, Portland State University
- 9:50am: Warmer Temperatures and Pacific Northwest Fire Potential; Dr. Dominique Bachelet, Department of Bioengineering, Oregon State University
- 10:20am Declining Mountain Snowpack in the Pacific Northwest; Dr. Nate Mantua, Research Scientist, Climate Impacts Group, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington
- 10:50am Break
- 11:00am Changes in Pacific Coast Marine Ecosystems in Response to Longterm Climate Change; Dr. Brian Tissot, Washington State University, Vancouver Campus
- 11:30am Shrinking Glaciers of the American West; Dr. Andrew Fountain, Departments of Geography and Geology, Portland State University
- Noon Lunch
- 1:00pm Climate Change and Its Impacts on Wine Production and Quality; Dr. Greg Jones, Southern Oregon University, Ashland, Oregon
- 1:30pm Antarctic Ice and Global Change; Dr. Christina Hulbe, Department of Geology, Portland State University
- 2:00pm Break
- 2:15pm Environmental Changes in the Arctic Region; Dr. James Morison, Applied Physics Laboratory, Polar Science Center, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington
- 2:45pm Pacific Decadal Oscillation, Climate Change and Northwest Salmon; Dr. Jim Anderson, School of Aquatic and Fishery Sciences, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington
- 3:15pm Question and Answer Session with all Speakers
- 3:45pm End of Forum

For more information contact: Jan Dabrowski, Ph.D., 503-699-6275
Email: jdabrowski@marylhurst.edu www.marylhurst.edu/scienceseminar/
Lunch tickets $10, pre-paid only by 9-27-05