13th Fire and Forest Meteorology Virtual Symposium

11 - 13 May · 2021

The 13th Fire and Forest Meteorology Virtual Symposium virtual platform will be shared with the 34th Conference on Hurricanes and Tropical Meteorology Virtual Meeting, taking place the same week in May. All registered attendees will have full access to the program, materials, and live presentations for both meetings. There are opportunities for your organization to showcase its support of these important meetings. General sponsorship levels will be seen by attendees of both meetings, expanding the reach of your recognition. You can target a specific audience by sponsoring a specific meeting agenda. Act now and place your organization's support behind these two meetings.
